The race for the dramatic cup came to a finish last Thursday evening, with "The Beggar on Horseback" winning in a walk. The decision of the judges is applauded by all who viewed the four productions offered in the contest. The Players' presentation was the only one of the lot which maintained from start to finish its original intent.

As a reviewer pointed out, "Not Yet, Fleurette," billed as a musical comedy, developed into melodrama. Likewise, "Britannicus," to all intents and purposes a classical tragedy, turned out to be a farce, while "Caesar and Cleopatra" leaned decidedly more to burlesque than to satire.

In spite of failings common to amateur casts, each production furnished an evening of good entertainment, and at least one has left a permanent impression. "There's a spot that I love, de goodle de do, I call it my cottage of dreams," may be heard at nearly every hour of the day or night from almost any corner of the campus.

Friday, the thirteenth, evidently was regarded as too much of a Jonah by one of the teams involved in the Pyramid-Faculty controversy. The date for the annual baseball game has been changed to Thursday, the twelfth.

Professor Croissant cast in the role of water boy is sufficient attraction to guarantee a large audience. Also, this is one occasion during the year when faculty and students have an even break. When the umpire calls "Three strikes and out," the professor cannot counter with stalling remarks as to insufficient preparation, etc.

George Washington track men proved themselves good mud hens and romped away with the C. U. track meet on Saturday. Long may it reign!

During the convention of the Classical Association held at the University last week, the Hatchet's inquiring reporter was regaled with the sight of a Classical lady quite brazenly inhaling a cigarette within the sacred precincts of Corcoran Hall. Page the Dean of Women!

High school seniors of Washington will be given a pre-view of the pleasant phases of college life at the Annual High School Night held in their honor this evening. If they like this sample they may return for more in the fall.

"Bigger and Better" is the Hatchet's motto. Following increase in the size of the paper from four to six pages, the circulation is increased to 6,500. Medical students who have failed to receive any of the issues this year are entitled to some speculation as to just what becomes of the 6,500. The extra 1,000 will remedy this situation.

The semi-annual stampede on the library has commenced. We suggest O'Sullivan heels for the thundering herd and a thorough oiling of the door hinges. This would contribute greatly to that atmosphere of academic calm so conducive to concentration and at present so deplorably lacking.

Next week will be your last opportunity of attending Chapel. If everyone who has not been to Chapel so far this year would go, a full house would be assured.

Dean Wilbur, we are told, used to open Chapel with the announcement: "These services will continue to be held in this room on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, even though no one is here but the speaker and myself."

It is not surprising that it is well nigh impossible to inveigle students into Chapel attendance. After listening to lectures all morning one cannot get awfully excited over the prospect of another talk. If Chapel exercises were converted into regular tri-weekly musical services, students would seize this chance for inspiration and mental relaxation.

"BEGGAR" WINS PHI DELTA CUP IN DRAMA FETE

Players Take First Honors For Production of Satirical Comedy

"BRITANNICUS" AND "NOT YET FLEURETTE" SECOND

Good Performances of Members of Casts Commended By Judges

The Phi Delta Gamma Dramatic cup was awarded to the Players for their production "The Beggar on Horseback" by the judges of the dramatic contest, Secretary Kayser, chairman of the committee, announced at the close of the final presentation of "Not Yet, Fleurette," in the University Gymnasium, Thursday, May 5. The much coveted cup was presented to Betty Kilbourne, of the Players.

Before presenting the cup, Secretary Kayser gave the report of the committee, which consisted of D. C. Croissant, E. S. Shepherd and Secretary Kayser. The judges, by way of negative criticism, mentioned the lack of adequate rehearsal on the part of three of the productions. They commended the designs and stage settings as uniformly good and well carried out. By way of criticism of specific productions, Secretary Kayser, for the committee, said:

Casts Commended
"All members of the cast of the 'Beggar on Horseback' should be mentioned for the adequate presentation of their parts. In 'Caesar and Cleopatra' Miss Mary Griffith, as Ptolemy, should be highly commended. In 'Britannicus' the costumes were well designed and worn. The work of Nero, Narcissus, Britannicus and Agrippina should be praised.

"In 'Not Yet, Fleurette' mention should be made of the high grade of the musical score written by Elmer Brown. The work of Miss Marion Campbell as Henriette and of Miss Ruth Newburn as Trixie Murphy was interesting and well done. Fleurette and John Ruysdael were thoroughly pleasing. The work of Mr. Larry Parker in all departments of the production deserves warm praise.

"On the basis of all the considerations involved the judges ranked the presentations as follows: First, 'The Beggar on Horseback,' last 'Caesar and Cleopatra,' and 'Britannicus' and 'Not Yet, Fleurette' in the middle positions."

"The 'Beggar on Horseback' was the first of the plays presented in competition for the cup. Myrtle Posey and Hall Hopper had the leading parts, and the cast included Betty Kilbourne, Glenys Hamilton, Max Tendler, Gwynn Sanders and others. Pern Henninger directed the very effective stage setting. The play is a very modern comedy satirizing certain characteristics of present-day civilization. It has been highly successful on Broadway, on the road, and recently at George Washington. The very production of such a play was a new effort on the part of the student body, and the fact that it was done so successfully is in itself a high tribute to the ability of the Players.

BIOTA CLUB TO ELECT

The Biota Club will meet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Building Six to elect officers for next year.

PEP CLUB MEETS

Professor "Pop" Earnest of the Law School was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Pep Club last Thursday.

Speaking on the subject of "More School Spirit," Mr. Earnest heartily endorsed the work of the Pep Club and advocated that all students take up the spirit of the club and carry it into every class and activity of the University.

Plans were made at the meeting for the dance which was held in the Gymnasium last Saturday. The May Festival, which the club is planning to give a little later, was the subject of much discussion.

Elections of officers for next year will take place next Thursday at the weekly meeting of the club.

EIGHTY-FIVE AT LEGAL BANQUET

Members of Delta Theta Phi Hold Joint Banquet of Senates

PLEDGES ARE INITIATED

Legal Fraternities of G. W. and G. U. Install Officers for Next Year

Eighty-five active and alumni members of the Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity attended the annual Founders' Day banquet held last Saturday evening at the Hotel Hamilton. The banquet was a joint function given by the Georgetown University and the Woodrow Wilson senate of George Washington University, and was arranged by a committee of the local Alumni Association of the Fraternity.

Judge Daniel M. Jackson, special assistant to the Attorney General, acted as toastmaster of the banquet. Dr. Earl C. Arnold, of the George Washington Law School faculty, principal speaker of the evening, gave an interesting account of the history of the fraternity and paid a glowing tribute to the founders in whose honor the banquet was held.

Musical Numbers Given
Hugh W. Colton, Dean of Wilson Senate, and Edward K. Thode, Dean of White Senate, were among the other speakers. Special musical and dance numbers completed the program.

At a short meeting preceding the banquet fourteen pledge members of the Wilson Senate were given the final initiatory degree and officers for the coming year were installed. The officers installed by the George Washington chapter are Edwin S. Hull, dean; Smith, vice dean; Hugh Colton, Tribune; M. M. Daubin, master of the ritual; E. W. Parkinson, clerk of the exchequer; J. R. Hobson, clerk of the rolls; Lieutenant Cummings, ball-iff. The new members initiated are L. E. Barber, Ralph H. Brauner, Norman H. Conner, Francis S. Gettle, Orval Hafen, Willard M. Hansen, Alfred A. Kinney, Dr. Edgar Thompson, John L. McCrea, L. Edwin Sunderland, Charles F. Martin, Charles Laughlin, Harley A. Watkins, and Edgar K. Thompson.

Student Committee Argues Point System

Each Member Presents a Tentative Plan at Meeting Held Monday Night

A permanent point system for the rating of students who have done outstanding work in extra-curricular activities was planned at the meeting of the President's Student Committee held Monday night in the President's Office.

Each member of the committee presented a tentative scheme of ratings. It is expected that these will soon be acted upon by the body. These records are to be kept permanently, and will become just as much a part of a student's record as his grades are. Further details will be published as soon as they are available.

G. W. STUDENTS AID FLOOD RELIEF FUND

Co-eds Are Active in Collecting Money for Red Cross

George Washington is aiding the local chapter of the Red Cross in raising money for the Mississippi flood relief fund. Under the direction of Dean Rose, George Washington girls have been active in collecting money from students and patrons of stores and theaters.

Boxes displaying red crosses and girls in red cross uniforms have been stationed in the halls of the University, neighborhood stores, and the downtown theaters. The work thus far has been successful, owing to the generous response, but Washingtonians are urged to send in contributions to aid in the relief work now being carried on. The Red Cross have not yet sufficient funds to execute their plans, and it is hoped that George Washington students will contribute their share in aiding the Red Cross.

CHERRY TREE TO BE OUT BEFORE MONTH CLOSES

Popularity Contest Held By Fraternities Will Be Featured

SUBSCRIBERS' NAMES ENGRAVED ON COVER

Free Copies to Be Given to Students Who Get Twenty Subscriptions

Although the actual date for publication has not been definitely announced as yet, the board of editors of the 1927 "Cherry Tree" promise that the year book will make its appearance on the campus soon, besting the date for last year's book by a considerable margin.

As a result of data acquired from questionnaires sent to the various organizations, some time ago, the "Cherry Tree" should hold considerable personal interest for the student body and the faculty. This section will be illustrated with appropriate photographs and snap-shots and is offered as one of the main features of the book.

Novel Covers
Another special attraction is the design whereby the G. W. color scheme of buff and blue will be carried out throughout the entire book. In fact, the opening section will be run in buff tint with a novel blue border. The remaining sections will be fitted with blue borders at top and bottom and the divisions will be separated by buff and blue inserts.

A cover of black, embossed in the center with the words "The Cherry Tree" in gold leaf, was chosen from among many samples. The lower right hand corner bears a miniature replica of a cherry tree, in green, with the date 1927, directly under which the name of the subscriber will be imprinted in gold. Payment of two dollars will reserve a copy, the remaining two to be paid upon receipt of the book. Payment of four dollars in advance entitles the purchaser to have his name on the front.

In connection with the engraving of names, the time in which this may be done has been indefinitely extended and anyone subscribing now may have the benefit of this offer. Special attention is also being given that the names shall be spelled correctly.

G. W. Views Featured

The motif of the publication in its entirety is one of effective simplicity. The opening section is to comprise among its various features eight views associated intimately with the life of George Washington. These are to be run on pebbled ivory paper in art green and are unusually attractive.

It is particularly advisable that subscriptions be made as soon as possible, as there will be no extra copies ordered.

Any student or organization turning in twenty subscriptions will be given a free copy of the "Cherry Tree." Subscriptions may also be made through the Registrar's Office or blanks may be obtained from Rowland Lyon.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TO BE GUESTS TONIGHT

Annual "High School Night" Will Be Held in Gym Tonight

Seniors from all five of the Washington high schools will be guests of honor at the annual high school night which is to be held in the George Washington Gymnasium tonight.

The program will include addresses by President Lewis, Harold Young, who is president of the Men's G. W. Club and Ermyntude Valden, vice president of the Women's G. W. Club. There will be several numbers given by the University Glee Club, and some songs and choruses from the cast of "Not Yet, Fleurette."

Dancing and other amusements will follow the program. Students having friends who are seniors in any of the high schools are requested to bring them along. The affair will start promptly at 8:15.

CLASS OFFICERS

Nominations for class officers of next year in the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes of Columbian College and Engineering College and the Junior and Senior classes in Teachers College will be made by petitions filed with Dean Rose by noon Saturday, May 14.

These petitions must have 20 signatures for each office, and one petitioner may sign but one petition for each office, and must be a member of the class.

Elections will be held the following week, and will be under the supervision of a faculty committee.

ENOSINIANS REVIVE

Professor Elmer Louis Kayser, an old member of the group, was the guest of honor at the "semi-annual revival meeting" of the Enosinian Society, which was held in the Zeta Tau Alpha rooms last night with Helen Shaw as hostess.

Mr. Kayser's subject was familiarly put as "My Girl Friends." The formal title was "Beatrice, Laura and Flammetta." Petrarch saw Laura for the first time on April 6 of the old calendar and April 21 by the new, in the year 1327, six hundred years ago this spring. Mr. Kayser stressed the influence that these three women had in turning the Renaissance from a cold classical revival into a humanistic moment in thought.

MUSICAL COMEDY IS BRILLIANT HIT

Gym is Packed For Troubadours' Original Offering, "Not Yet Fleurette"

CHORUS NUMBERS SCORE Four Song Hits Now on Sale; More May Be Published at Early Date

"Not Yet, Fleurette," in spite of the poor opening night last Tuesday, played to a packed house both Wednesday and Thursday, and although not equaling, perhaps, the popularity of "Just a Kiss" has taken its place in the history of dramatics at George Washington University.

Due to such hindrances as the Junior Prom and Pan Hej, which interfered sadly with the final rehearsals, "Not Yet, Fleurette" stepped off with a bang Wednesday night from the moment when Ruth Newburn appeared on the scene as "vaudeville artist and snappy entertainer," pleasing her audience with "What If" rendered in her inimitable voice. Marion Campbell's portrayal of Henriette won merited praise from the audience as well as from the judges for the cup award.

Parker Draws Laughs
Larry Parker drew the expected laughs, culminating when he came on the stage searching for "scarab tracks." "Cottage of Dreams," which appears to be the hit of the show, was enthusiastically received, and Mary Virginia Leckie's interpretation of the waltz as given by Billy Wright and Carr Ferguson was appreciated. Possibly the cleverest chorus number was the Marche Militaire as executed by the pony chorus in intriguing dress uniforms, with shiny "patent leather" boots and pseudo shakos.

"Falling in Love," sung by Fleurette and John, proved one of the most popular of the songs, and owing to numerous requests for it, will probably be published. The dance fantasia of the second act brought hearty applause to Peggy Eckels and Margaret Beasley. The Glee Club was much in evidence and rendered tuneful assistance in several of the numbers.

The four songs which have already been published are now on sale at the University Cafeteria, the University Inn and at Droop's Music Store, or may be secured from Elmer Brown. Droop's is planning a large display this week in the G Street window featuring "Cottage of Dreams," which according to reports is selling fast.

Alumni News Goes To Grads This Week

Quarterly Publication Is Sent to 8,000 Alumni Throughout Country

The George Washington University Alumni News, which is published quarterly, made its appearance this week. The News is sent to the eight thousand alumni of the University.

In the editorial of the News by the Alumni President, Dr. Frank A. Hornaday, the close contact of the alumni with school is pointed out. Seventeen years ago the board of trustees adopted a resolution providing for the election of "alumni trustees." This resolution has taken effect so that the Alumni Association selects two of its members each year for a term of office of three years. Thus the alumni are always represented by six members. Besides these six members there are four other trustees who are alumni, and three members who have received honorary degrees from the University.

HATCHET CIRCULATION IS INCREASED TO 6500

Since the last issue of The University Hatchet the circulation of the publication has been increased from 5,500 copies to 6,500. The printing of this extra thousand copies will continue for the rest of this semester.

The Hatchet, which for some time has had the largest circulation of any weekly college publication in the United States, has made tremendous progress in the last few years. This increase in circulation will bring added advertising value to The Hatchet.

COLONIAL TRACK MEN TAKE DUAL MEET WITH C. U.

Buff and Blue Takes Field Events; Cardinals Excel in Dashes

ABBOTT IS NOSED OUT BY SULLIVAN IN 440

C. U. Squad Blanked in Three Events While Probe's Charges Score in All

Overcoming the handicap of a field soggy from continuous rains, the Colonial track team showed excellent form in decisively defeating the Catholic University track squad, 68-2-3 to 48-1-3 in a dual meet held in the Brookland stadium last Saturday afternoon.

After the first five events, the score stood 25 to 20 in favor of George Washington, and from then on the only question in the minds of the spectators was the margin of victory which George Washington would pile up. The Cardinals showed flashes of speed as they won the low hurdles, the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, and the quarter-mile run, but there their supremacy ceased, for the Buff and Blue contestants heavily outscored the Brooklanders in every field event with the exception of the broad and high jumps.

Sullivan Is High Scorer
Sullivan, of Catholic U. was high scorer of the afternoon with a total of 11 points. Close behind him, however, came Popham and Baker of the Colonials, and Gerth of the Cardinals, with 10 points each.

Abbott and Sullivan offered the most thrilling race of the meet in the 440-yard run. Sullivan took the lead early in the race, only to be passed by Abbott midway of the course. Desperately Sullivan attempted to regain the lead, and finally, with a tremendous burst of speed, repassed the Colonial runner on the stretch and breasted the tape six inches ahead of Abbott.

The 220-low hurdles were run in two heats, the time of the first two contestants being counted. Abbott, for George Washington, was an easy winner in the first heat, while Gerth of Catholic U. romped home yards ahead of his nearest competitor to take the second heat and the run with a time of :28 2-5 seconds.

Baker Has Easy Time
Wilbur Baker had things all his way, and was not forced to extend himself to take the half-mile and the mile run, while Popham likewise met little difficulty in taking the shot put and discus. George Washington won all three places in the last two events mentioned.

Catholic University was also blanked in the two-mile run, and was only saved from the whitewash in the pole vault by Champa, who tied with Hartzog and Elliott of George Washington.

It has become the custom in the University to determine the winners by an oratorical contest. Orations may be upon any subject, but may not require more than fifteen minutes for delivery. Only seniors in the Department of Arts and Sciences are eligible.

Those who desire to compete should do so by notifying Harryman Dorsey not later than May 12. He will be in Corcoran Hall 1 at six o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday; or he may be addressed by letter in the care of Professor George L. Farnham at the University.

SUMMER SCHOOL CHANGES

The office of the Director of the Summer School has just announced that a list of very important changes in the Summer School will soon be published. Students expecting to take work in the Summer School are advised to secure this list from the Registrar's Office.

A WORD TO THE PROFESSORS

With the posting of examination schedules on the bulletin boards we are reminded that the bitter time for cramming will soon be at hand. Meanwhile we struggle along under an increased burden of daily assignments, trying to keep our heads above water, and hoping (without avail) that Prof. So-and-So's exam won't be hard. It should be possible to arrange the courses of study in the University in such a way as to allow at least a week before the final cataclysm for a general review of the subjects, instead of piling more last-minute work on the students. There are a few professors who give their classes a fighting chance by permitting them to let up on the current work long enough to review and to get, thereby, a better grasp of the subject. Like Abou-Ben-Ahmed, may their tribe increase.

DR. BEMIS

With the announcement of the winning of the Pulitzer Prize by Dr. Samuel Bemis comes a realization of the fact that the event is one of the biggest things that has happened to George Washington. To have at the head of the history department a man who is so well informed in his field that the highest prize obtainable in history has been awarded to him, is indeed a feather in the cap of any school.

An incident overheard at the Library of Congress recently shows Dr. Bemis' position in the scholastic world. One of the assistant librarians was speaking to a lady who was asking if she might reserve one of the desks in the office of the Library. "Oh, no, indeed," was the reply of the librarian, evidently much surprised by the temerity of the request, "desks of this kind are reserved only for famous scholars, Dr. Bemis, of George Washington University, for example."

Due to the fact that the news was announced last week just as the Hatchet was going to press, it was impossible to give an expression concerning it in the last issue. It is therefore with much sincerity that we congratulate Dr. Bemis on his recent achievement. It is also with much sincerity that the students of the University hope that the "archival resources of Washington" will still be foremost in his thoughts and that any alluring offers which may come as a result of this accomplishment may be put aside in favor of George Washington. Again, Dr. Bemis, we congratulate you.

DAVIS PRIZE SPEAKING CONTEST

As the close of the school year draws near, announcement is made of the date for the Davis Prize Speaking Contest. A sum of money was set aside eighty years ago, the income from which was to provide three awards for excellence in oratory. Speaking in public is becoming more and more important, especially in the United States. The man who can not stand up before an audience and deliver a talk in a clear, convincing manner is indeed handicapped. No better incentive to speak well is offered than the award of these prizes to seniors in the Department of Arts and Sciences. Last year there was a noticeable dearth of contestants. Let us hope that there will be a large field of entrants in the contest this year.

WITH the merry month of May at hand, there are plenty of warm days and campus benches to detract from classroom attendance, but there is not much incentive for study in spite of the nearness of exam week. Fraternities and sororities are speeding up their spring formals and last-minute informals so that the last few nights of May can be used for cramming.

Dot Ruth and "Jerry" Martin spent the week-end at a house-party at Kamp Kahlert, on West River, Md.

Alice Graham, Carolyn Wilcox, Winnie Beall and Margaret Monk were honored by a last-minute invitation to the Classical Association Luncheon, Saturday, May 7.

Alice Haines, Gamma Beta Pi alumna, visited friends here this past week-end.

Kappa Alpha fraternity will hold its spring formal dance at the chapter house tonight. Invitations have been issued to various fraternities of the University who will send representatives.

Sigma Chi fraternity entertained parents and friends of the chapter with the annual Mother's Day tea on Sunday, May 8. The house was attractively decorated with potted palms and the guests were entertained with an especially arranged musical program.

Peggy Hoover entertained about 50 George Washington couples with an informal dance at the Dupont Circle Club last Saturday night. The Chi Omegas and Kappa Sigs turned out almost 100 percent and the interesting stag line added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

Frances Davis will be at home to the members of Chi Omega fraternity and friends tomorrow afternoon at her home on Twenty-seventh Street.

The K. A.'s recently held elections for the coming year.

A Founder's Day formal dance was given by Psi Chapter, Phi Delta Epsilon National Medical fraternity, in the Patio of the Carlton Hotel, Friday evening, May 6. The celebration was honored by the presence of several of the men who founded the first chapter at Cornell Medical School in 1906. The local chapter was organized in 1921.

Kappa Alpha fraternity announces the pledging of Jack Davis. Davis is a freshman in the law school, having received his A. B. degree at Citadel College, S. C.

Alpha Nu Chapter of Kappa Alpha order recently entertained three brothers from Beta Epsilon Chapter of the University of Delaware.

Alpha Sigma Theta gave a tea on May 1 to announce its installation as the Zeta Chapter of Phi Delta. Miss Ethel N. Bisland, national president of Phi Delta, and Mrs. Frank Murphy, national vice-president, presided at the installation ceremonies, held at the Mayflower Hotel on April 21.

The "Styx" is having a benefit at Keith's on Wednesday, May 18. Tickets are being sold by all the members.

Alpha Chi Sigma held a closed dance at the Franklin Square Hotel last Saturday evening.

Following the performance of "Not Yet, Fleurette" on the opening night, the Mimes, who had attended the show en masse, adjourned to the home of Kenneth Years, where a dance was held.

Those in the party included Leonard Hall and Gloria Pethick, of the "Daily News"; Jim Ring of the "Times"; Mrs. Ring, Lonnelle Davison, Alpha Booth, Mary Griffith, Ann Wrightson, Marian Barker, Foster Hagan, Wilford Edling, Arthur Davis, Ed Moulton and Kenneth Years.

Mary Griffith and Ann Wrightson entertained the Mimes at their home on last Friday night. Mary Whitney entertained with a shower at her home on Stuyvesant Street in honor of Gertrude Wallace last Friday night. Miss Wallace, who is a member of Delta Zeta fraternity, is to be married tonight.

The marriage of Miss Frances Davis, former George Washingtonite, to Ensign Oliver Naquin will take place on Saturday night of this week at the Church of the Epiphany. Miss Davis, who is a member of Chi Omega sorority, is having a truly Chi O wedding. Those in the wedding party are Mary Temple Hill, maid of honor, Elsie Talbert, Margaret Schwarz, Winnie White, Marjorie White, Vivian Bane and Betty Brandenburg, bridesmaids. The wedding will be followed by a reception at the clubhouse of the American Association of University Women.

Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity held its spring formal dance at the Manor Country Club on Thursday, May 6, with about 60 couples present. The party started at 8 with a dinner, at which Prof. Elmer Louis Kayser was the principal speaker. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Hurd and Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell. Bran Hughes' orchestra played for the dance, at which favors were given. The hall and table were decorated with the fraternity colors, midnight blue and gold. Representatives of the several fraternities were present.

On April 29th, 30th, and May 1st, the Phi Alpha Fraternity held its annual Alpha-Gamma Reunion. On Friday evening, April 29th, the Alumni and the active fraters were brought together at a smoker given at the fraternity house. Several of the founders were among those present.

On the following night a formal prom was held at the Mayflower Hotel in the "Garden of the Palms." Music was furnished by Boernstein's Mayflower Hotel orchestra. Professor and Mrs. Kayser were among the patrons and patronesses.

On Sunday evening, May 1st, an informal dinner dance was held at the Villa Roma. Music was furnished by Moe Baer's Villa Roma orchestra.

The local chapter will finish its social season by staging a house dance in the near future.

Robert Menzel will entertain a few of the S. P. E.'s with a "Friday the Thirteenth" party at Le Paradis on Friday.

Phi Delta announces the pledging of Helen Nichols. A luncheon was held in the sorority rooms in honor of the new pledge.

Phi Mu Sorority entertained at luncheon, Saturday, May 7th, in order to announce the engagement of Edwina Berry to Harold Cox, of Jackson, Miss.

ANGLICANS CHOOSE LYON AS PRESIDENT

Other Officers Elected by G. W. Episcopal Club

At a meeting of the George Washington University Episcopal Club held April 28 in Corcoran Hall the following officers were elected for the next school year: President, Rolston Lyon; Vice-President, Mildred Thomas; Recording Secretary, Margaret Willis; Corresponding Secretary, Della Bogue. Rev. Arlington A. McCallum, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will continue as Chaplain of the Club.

The concluding business meeting of the year will be held at Corcoran Hall on Thursday evening, May 12, at 8 o'clock. A final meeting, in the nature of a social gathering, is being planned for some time shortly after examinations.

DEAN HODGKINS RETURNS

Howard L. Hodgkins, Dean of the University, returned to the University last week and resumed the teaching of his classes, having recovered from an operation for a cataract of the eye.

ORATORICAL CONTEST - WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Ruth Kernan Wins First Prize in Oratorical Division; Other Awards are Made

NOMINATIONS WANTED FOR ACTIVITY MEDAL

Nominations for the Delta Tau Delta Activity Medal must be in Professor Kayser's by May 15. The nominations should give the candidate's qualifications for the prize, particularly specifying his activities at George Washington.

The medal is awarded annually by the Gamma Eta chapter of Delta Tau Delta to that man of the senior class who has done the most constructive work in the furtherance of student activities at the University.

FRENCH CLUB TO HOLD FINAL MEETING OF YEAR

Le Cercle Gallia will hold its final meeting of the year on Friday, May 13, at 8.30 p. m., in the Phi Mu rooms. Dean Henning will address the members of the club and their guests. Election of officers and plans for next year will be made. The club reports a very successful year and enjoins its members and friends to be present at this "au revoir" meeting. The officers for the last year have been: M. Andre Beneteau, faculty president; Dorothy Dougherty, president; Madeline Albert, vice president; Deborah Gold, secretary, and William H. Harrison, treasurer.

COLUMBIAN DEBATERS TO MEET

The meeting of the Columbian Debaters scheduled for Friday, May 6, has been deferred until Friday, May 13, when it will be held in Corcoran Hall at 8 p. m. After a debate between Charles Laughlin and Leo Bender, over which William S. Simpson is to preside, there will be an open forum for all these augmentatively inclined. Everyone interested in debate is invited to come.

TO ABOLISH STUDENT COURT

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—The student court at University of North Dakota is worthless, has tried no cases this year, and has been ineffectually conducted, the Men's Conference has voted.

The faculty in all cases has really had the power in cases of student discipline, it was pointed out.

University officials will doubtless accede to the request for abolition, since it is felt that they share the opinion of the conference.

HARVARD CUTS COURSE LENGTH

CAMBRIDGE—Harvard University has decided to follow the custom of British and European universities and substantially cut the length of time in the classroom. The plan will probably be instituted during 1927-28, and its purpose is to free the student from continual supervision and afford him greater opportunity for individual work.

EXPERIENCED pipe-smokers from Cape Lisburne to Cape Sable (get out your map of North America!) recommend P. A. to you as the finest tobacco that ever lined the bowl of a pipe. You'll check-in with their recommendation.

Why, the instant you swing back the hinged lid on the tidy red tin, your olfactory nerve registers a fragrance like that of a pine-grove on a damp morning. And when you tuck a load of this wonderful tobacco into your pipe—say, Mister!

Cool as Cape Lisburne, mentioned above. Sweet as the plaudits of a first-night audience. Mild as morning in Cape Sable. (That's working-in the old geography!) Mild, yet with a full tobacco body that completely satisfies your smoke-taste. Buy some Prince Albert today and make the test!

ATHLETIC GIRLS TO BE HONORED NEXT SATURDAY

Second Annual May Day Fete Will Be Held In Rock Creek Park

INVITATIONS SENT OUT TO ALL CO-ED LEADERS

Women's Activity Cup to Be Awarded; Will Name Captains For Next Year

The athletic girls of the University will come together in their yearly celebration at Rock Creek Park next Saturday in the second annual May Day Fete. This is the big day in the college year for those girls who have distinguished themselves in sports. On this occasion all girls who have won honors in anything connected with athletics all the way from varsity stars to class team "subs" assemble to receive their fitting rewards.

Invitations to the event, which is closed to all except the "honored few", were issued the early part of this week. Cars will be at the Gym at 2.30 to carry the guests to the park. The Women's Advisory Council is in charge of preparations. This is the last thing in which the W. A. C. will figure, for they will be dissolved with the acceptance of the new Student Government Association.

To Begin Promptly at 3

Activities will begin promptly at 3 o'clock. The program, which has been kept secret by Ella April, chairman of that committee, is promised to be good. After that, in which all those present will take part, there will be talks by members of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities and the presentation of cups, letters, blazers and all other awards earned during the year. The Panhellenic Association will present the rifle and basketball teams with gold awards as has been customary. The winner of the athletic cup will be announced and also managers and captains for next year's teams.

Following this, supper will be served in the park. Anita Mueller, who has charge of the food, has promised that there will be the proverbial picnic "cats" for those who like them and much else for those whose taste does not run to hot dogs.

The event will be nothing short of last year's and those invited are looking forward to a good time, food and the year's rewards. It marks the termination of athletics at the University for the current season.

"CHALKY-BABE" COMBINE IS UNDOING OF MUTES

Several Shifts Made in Colonial Line-up; Lopenan Plays Second, Smith in Outfield

BY KING PRENDER

Coach "Maud" Crum and his hustling bunch of baseballers invaded Kendall Green last Thursday and definitely proved that the Colonial are superior to the Gallaudet Gladiators on the diamond. They earned a 2 to 1 verdict over the Mutes.

In their previous meeting, on the last day of April, the slaughter was interrupted by a deluge. The Axemen had banged across ten runs to one for their opponents and needed only one more put-out in order to make the game legal, when the rain ended hostilities for the day.

That rained-out affair, although not legal, disclosed several facts. It showed that George Washington was justified in putting a team into intercollegiate competition. Emory "Babe" Clapper showed enough stuff on the mound to be rated as a coming big league star. While "Hokey" Hokanson, Gallaudet's hurling choice, failed to have anything that could baffle the Crummen.

It was not strange, therefore, to find "Out" Roberts instead of "Hokey" chucking them up to the slugging Colonials when the teams met for a second time.

"Chalky-Babe" Combine

Clapper scintillated in the box, allowing only four well-distributed hits, while he sent over a third strike on thirteen batters. He would have scored a shut-out but for a miscue.

Roberts was no set-up with his speed (Continued on page 4)

G. W. Golfers Downed By Virginia Crew 6-5

Buff and Blue Team is Playing Strong Princeton Squad This Afternoon

The George Washington golf team lost the return match against the University of Virginia by a score of 6-5 at the East Potomac Park Course last Sunday.

Playing over fast greens and good fairways the two teams battled for honors on the two hardest courses in the park. The remarkable playing and a close acquaintance with Lady Luck won for the visitors.

George Washington had the match well in hand when a heart-breaking shot by Virginia clinched the match.

This afternoon the Varsity is playing at Princeton against the Tiger aggregation, reputed to be one of the strongest in the East.

VAIDEN STILL AHEAD IN CUP RACE BY 60 POINTS

Omwake Second With 124 Points; Only One Month Remains Until Finish

Ermyntrude Vaiden is still far in advance of all competitors for the Women's Activity Cup with 181 points. Louise Omwake trails her by almost 60 points.

Very little time now remains before the final reckoning, and to all appearances Miss Vaiden will capture the trophy. As she is a senior she will be unable to keep the cup for more than a year, as it must be won three times to insure permanent possession.

The rating of the girls is as follows: 1. E. Vaiden, 181; 2. Omwake, 124; 3. B. Clarke, 116; 4. E. Cuvillier, J. Denning, V. Parsons, 108; 5. H. Prentiss, 101; 6. E. Alexander, 94; 7. N. Crumley, 93; 8. M. Folsom, 92.

Y. W. GIRLS WILL GO TO KAMP KAHLERT JUNE 10

G. W. Girls Invited to Spend Weekend at Camp on West River

Kamp Kahlert will have as its guests George Washington girls for three days, June 10-12, from Friday evening through Sunday dinner. Kahlert, the local Y. W. camp, is on West River, 34 miles from Washington. University co-eds will be offered hiking, boating, swimming and other forms of recreation by the Y. W. C. A. of this campus.

Another feature of the trip will be the installation of the recently-elected officers, who are: Helen Dix, president; Anne McCorkle, vice-president; Louise Du Bose, secretary, and Louise Omwake, treasurer.

Registrations must be sent to Louise Omwake or Louise Du Bose by May 26. The trip will cost $3.25, a dollar of which must be paid at the time of registration.

Invitations to go to Kamp Kahlert are extended to every George Washington University girl, but it is urged that registrations be made early, as the number of the party is limited.

HOPKINS FROSH, SOPHS DUNNED FOR BREAKAGE

BALTIMORE—Bills for $126, being damages incurred at the Freshman banquet of Johns Hopkins University held in Annapolis recently, are being sent to the treasurers of both the freshman and sophomore classes.

The caterer is seeking redress for the smashing of forty-two dinner plates, sixty-four tumblers, twenty-eight soup plates, twenty-six cups, thirty-one platters, twenty-eight saucers, and four sugar bowls. Tablecloths were reduced to shreds by the battle between frosh and sophs, chairs and tables were broken up, and knives, forks, and spoons were mashed and bent.

Prof-Pyramid Baseball Game Will Be Played Tomorrow

Huge Crowd Expected to Witness Annual Diamond Classic Between Faculty and Honor Men; Faculty Lineup is Forecast; Pyramid is Silent As to Its Players

Tomorrow, instead of Friday as previously announced, will be the date of the annual Faculty-Pyramid baseball game.

This perennial tilt between the professors and honor men is slated to get under way on one of the Monument Lot diamonds at 2.00 tomorrow afternoon, and will last until the last of the Faculty heavy hitters has whiffed the breeze.

Manager Henry Grattan Doyle, for the Faculty is confident that "when the sun sinks into the golden west, victory upon his team shall rest."

The manager bases his conclusions on the form of President William Mather Lewis, pitching ace for the professors, who is reported to be adverse to giving many passes this near examination time. This report is somewhat contradictory with another issued by the same authority, who states that the Pyramid will be set down in "A, B, C" order. Nevertheless, the manager believes that, based on past performances, the star hurler is "due" for a no-hit, no-run game.

In case a relief pitcher becomes necessary, either Roe or Billmeyer will be ready to take the mound and do the Fred Marberry stunt. Gilbert Hall will don the mask and chest protector to receive the cannonball deliveries of the Faculty tossers.

An infield which is pronounced so tight that a mosquito could not bore his way through, will be selected from Messrs. Roeser, Bement, Bolwell, Anderson, and Corliss. The task of snagging flies out of the ether will be delegated to a trio drawn from Atley, Boyd, Tillemma, West, Moss, and others.

As is the usual case, Professor DeWitt Clinton "Dick" Croissant, Ph. D. (Princeton) is to be official custodian of the water bucket, for the benefit of thirsty faculty members.

Quite contrary to the confident statements of Manager Doyle, the manager of the Pyramid nine, Hilory A. Tolson, is preserving a silence worthy of an ex-resident of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, and is giving no information to the press. His only comment is, "We shall avenge the flunks of our classmates." A spokesman for the manager of the Pyramid aggregation also states that the honor men are in no way dismayed over the numerous practices of the Faculty, but are certain that no amount of practice can help the professors.

F. & M. NETMEN BEAT G. W. TEAM

Lancaster Racketers Defeat Colonials in Six Matches By Close Score

ONE SET GOES 24 GAMES

Catholic University to be Played on the Brookland Courts This Afternoon

Losing by close scores in all its matches, the George Washington tennis team was defeated by the Franklin and Marshall netmen 6-0 last Tuesday at Lancaster, Pa. The home team won all events on the card was forced to extra games in four of the sets, and won three others by scant two-game margins. The Pennsylvania team played a return match in Washington yesterday, but scores are not available for publication this week.

Kenny Abrams furnished the strongest G. W. opposition in the singles events by winning game for game with Feagley until the fifteenth in the first set, when Feagley broke through Kenny's service to take a 9-7 victory. In the second set, after several games had gone to deuce, Feagley made some fast returns to win set and match 6-4.

Another close match resulted between Irving Aronowsky and Shupp, which the latter won in straight sets after the local courtman had displayed some neatly placed drives to carry the first set to extra games.

Doubles Interesting

A doubles event which started out rather poorly developed into one of the most interesting of the afternoon, with Benny Detwiler and Irving Aronowsky of the G. W. squad furnishing the thrills against Kahler and Stroble. After losing a love set, the local pair came back strong and several times were within a few points of winning the second set, which went 24 games before the Pennsylvania duet took it 13-11. Both teams played a clever defensive game when they were in danger.

Three sets were required for a decision in the other doubles event, which started with Don Sickler and Kenny Abrams on the long end of the score, 6-3. The home team of Lefever and Feagley took the second set 6-1. In the third and deciding set, the G. W. men lost two games in a row to give the Lancasters a 6-4 victory.

C. U. on Schedule

The local netmen have five more contests scheduled. Those on the card this week are Franklin and Marshall, which was played here yesterday, and Catholic University. The Cardinals will be met on the Brookland tennis courts today.

Results in detail—George Washington vs. Franklin & Marshall, played at Lancaster, Pa.

Singles: Lefever (F. & M.) defeated Detwiler (G. W.) 6-1, 10-8. Feagley (F. & M.) defeated Abrams (G. W.) 9-7, 6-4. Kahler (F. & M.) defeated Sickler (G. W.) 6-3, 6-4. Shupp (F. & M.) defeated Aronowsky (G. W.) 9-7, 6-3.

Doubles: Lefever and Feagley (F. & M.) defeated Abrams and Sickler (G. W.) 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. Kahler and Stroble (F. & M.) defeated Detwiler and Aronowsky (G. W.) 6-0, 13-11.

MAY CURB STUDENT CARS

ALFRED, N. Y.—Students of Alfred University are considering a rule against student-owned cars, following the example of Penn State, Princeton, and other large universities.

Among the solutions discussed is that of a college license bureau, in which students would be represented. Other proposals would restrict ownership of cars to Seniors or to all upperclassmen.

TRACK NUMBERS GIVEN

Quadrangular Meet With C. U., Gallaudet, and Hopkins to Close Colonial Track Season

Full of confidence after its dual meet with Catholic University, Coach Proby's track squad is priming itself to meet Gallaudet in a double encounter next Saturday at Kendall Green.

The team has made exceptional progress in the field events, where it has hitherto been considered weak, as witnessed by its wide margin of victory over the Cardinal fieldmen. The distance runners are also in fine shape. Consequently, most of the time will be spent on the dash men, preparing them for the short runs.

To Be Held at Gallaudet

But one event remains on the track schedule after Saturday's meet, and that is a quadrangular meet between George Washington, Catholic University, Johns Hopkins and Gallaudet, which will be held in the Brookland stadium on Saturday, May 21.

LITERARY MAGAZINE MAY BE PUBLISHED

All Students Interested in Magazine Work to Meet Next Monday Night

A meeting of all students interested in competing for positions on either the business or editorial staff of a proposed literary magazine will be held Monday evening, May 16, at 8 o'clock in Room 25 of Corcoran Hall. The meeting will also be attended by one or more members of the English department who will assist in the organization and act in an advisory capacity.

It is planned by those interested in the venture to organize the staff of the magazine before the end of school so that there will be no trouble in getting things started next fall. According to those interested in the venture there is a great deal of talent in existence here for which there has been no opportunity of expression through the channels of the other University publications. Founding of a new magazine is designed to meet this want.

The aim of the new magazine is to publish stories, poems, sketches, book and dramatic reviews, etc., which combine literary merit with timely interest and readability. It is stated that it is imperative that all those interested should attend the meeting.

MITTMEN SCORE IMPRESSIVE WIN

ball taking queer hops around the steady-swinging Colonial bats, for he allowed only eight hits and one earned run. The deciding counter, oddly enough, was caused by an error.

"Chalky" Lopeman, peppery second sacker, received a major share of the spotlight by leading both teams in hitting and by scoring both of his team's runs. He was ruled out of the contest when he strenuously protested a close and vital decision at the plate in the ninth.

The consistent play of Jimmy Carey at short and "Joe" Sniegowski behind the plate should have prominent mention. Both boys played a head-up game throughout.

Up until the fourth inning Lopeman was the only man to get a hit, and on his second trip to the plate he lined out a single which paved the way for the first run of the day.

He was sent around to second by virtue of Smith's tremendous wallop which landed in the mit of a fast-flying Gallaudeter. "Chalky" sped home when "Babe" Clapper shoved a sizzling single past the keystone cushion.

The Colonials were then held scoreless until the eighth when the same "Chalky-Babe" duo rang up the deciding counter.

Clapper Mystifies Mutes

The Mutes were completely baffled by "Babe's" speedy hooks, curves, drops and everything. Not until the next to the last inning were they able to dent the counting block via an error.

Krug, the second man up in the eighth, lofted to the foul line in short left. Walker came tearing in after the sphere and decided to play it fair. He barely reached it, touched it, and fumbled it in such a manner that the batter succeeded in reaching second base. Dyer watched three strikes whiz by. But Lou, the next man up, got his bat in the way of a fast one, a single and a run resulted.

Both teams attempted rallies in the last inning but they were fruitless. If the boys can continue to play such first class ball they may count on several more victories.

Games with Catholic and American Universities are being arranged.

COLLEGE CRUISE TO TAKE CO-EDS

Editorial in New York Sun Cites Reasons For Inviting Girls On Tour

FARS LACK OF MANNERS

Head of "Floating College" Says Feminine Companionship Is Essential Detail

The following editorial was printed in the New York Sun for May 6. It is entitled "Education Afloat," and is reprinted herewith.

The co-ed need not despair of being permitted to flavor her knowledge with the tang of the salt sea. If one "floating university" bars her because its instructors fear she will exert a distracting influence on the serious-minded student of the opposite sex, there is another "cruising college" which will welcome her because its promoters hold that a shipload of young males, left to themselves, may forget the manners and customs of civilization.

The faculty of the classes aboard the Ryndam, which has just completed a tour lasting eight months, discount the reports of romances on the ship, but some of them are convinced that co-education has no place on a college cruise. The chief difficulty in having young men and young women on the same trip, they say, was that the fact made it difficult to arrange travel accommodations in several of the countries visited. When the Ryndam departs next fall on her second educational cruise, therefore, the co-ed will be left ashore.

But the Aurania, which will leave on a similar tour at about the same time, will provide accommodations for studious men and women. The sponsors of this trip declare that they want their "floating college" to be representative of American higher education, and they point out, many of the publicly supported colleges are co-educational. Moreover, Dr. Thomas W. Butcher, who will head the faculty on the Aurania, fears that if 500 or 600 young men are taken on a trip of any length without feminine companionship they may become lax in their manners.

PHI DELTA PHI INITIATES

John Marshall's Inn of Phi Delta Phi held its spring initiation on Thursday evening, April 28th, at the Army and Navy Club. Those initiated were Vance Brand, John Esch, Mark Esch, John S. Fessenden, Joseph Y. Houghton, Lynn Hutton and Alton M. Reeder. Following the initiation, the Inn re-elected Henry Kilbourne as Magister for the coming year. Professor Collier of the Law School attended the meeting and addressed the gathering at the close of the initiation ceremonies.

Men's Glee Club Lists Six More Appearances

Group to Sing at Reception at Home of President Lewis on May 19

Not content to close the season with its engagement at the Earle Theatre the Men's Glee Club has made several appearances since then and has about six more on its schedule before the season closes officially.

On April 23 they gave their annual concert at the Georgetown Presbyterian Church and on May 7 they gave a concert at the Mayflower Hotel for the Democratic Women of America. May 18 they will sing at the Annual Banquet of the George Washington Medical School Alumni. That same evening the club will also sing in the musical festival given by the various musical organizations of Washington at the Central High School auditorium.

In this appearance there will be three male choruses merged into one; the George Washington University Glee Club, the Interstate Male Chorus and the Almas-Temple Chorus. There will also be some numbers for mixed choruses in which the various women's choruses and church choirs will be massed with the organizations named above.

The songs that will be sung in the male chorus group are "Integer Vitae," "The Lamp in the West," and "Worship of God in Nature."

The succeeding afternoon, May 19, from five to six, one-half of the Glee Club will sing at a reception at the home of President William Mather Lewis. In addition to these several other concerts are tentatively booked and definite announcement of them will be made later. They will probably include a concert for the benefit of the "Flood Relief Fund" and the annual school concert and dance to be held in the Gymnasium on H Street.

C. M. T. CAMPS EXPECT 35,000 NEXT SUMMER

Interesting Figures Compiled
By Army Statisticians
Showing Value

ATHLETICS STRESSED AT SUMMER CAMPS

Many College Football Teams Use
Army Camps For Early Training
In Sports

Taller by 290 feet of added stature, heavier by 80 tons of new muscle, deeper of chest by 646 feet of extra capacity, with swelling biceps showing an increase of 724 feet over old measurements.

These giant-like proportions are physical gains which will be shared among 35,000 young Americans as a result of spending 30 days in the open air at Citizens' Military Training Camps this summer, according to statistics received from the War Department today by Major S. Munson Corbett, M. C. U. S. A., professor of Military Science and Tactics.

The average youth who takes the C. M. T. C. training, these statistics indicate, may expect to add four pounds and a half to his weight. He should gain 10 inch in height.

Besides, there are important general improvements of which accurate measurements can not be made, such as development of correct posture, better carriage, harder endurance, keener mental alertness, higher sense of hygiene, and improved all round health, it is reported by the Army surgeons compiling the statistics.

160,000 Have Attended

Their figures were obtained by consideration of the records of almost 160,000 young men who have attended the C. M. T. Camps during the six summers they have been in operation, Major Corbett explained.

"This tremendous enrollment has been attracted to the camps very largely by the important place given athletics in the camp programs," he said. "In no other country in the world have young men greater devotion to a large variety of sports and games than in the United States."

"Ever since the first series of C. M. T. Camps in 1921, his interest in athletics has been reflected in the large number of volunteers who saw in the C. M. T. Camps an unusual opportunity to participate in all popular types of American sports under skilled instructors."

"The Government, in stressing the athletic feature of the camps, furnished much of the enormous amount of athletic equipment now available at C. M. T. Camps, but this generous work was supplemented by donations from patriotic societies and civic committees in all parts of the United States."

Opportunities for Swimming

"Many of the training centers are located on the seashore or on inland lakes and rivers with ample opportunities for bathing and water sports. At less favored spots the Government has established adequate, hygienic and attractive swimming tanks. The Red Cross has arranged systematic courses of instruction, leading successful students to final credit as life guards."

"Baseball diamonds and suitable equipment have been provided so that all men who seek to qualify for the numerous company teams are completely outfitted. Leagues for inter-company and regimental competition flourish at all C. M. T. Camps."

"Tennis courts are to be found everywhere. Boxing is taught for students of all weights. Volleyball, pushball and even fencing are hardly less popular."

"Increasingly each year are high school, normal school and college football teams, sometimes with their own coaches, finding in the Summer Citizens' camps a highly-prized occasion for preliminary training in full accordance with academic rules."

"Track teams enroll from many schools and share the exceptional advantage of training and competition in running, jumping, pole vaulting, shot putting, and javelin and discus throwing under expert coaches."

"The athletic youth of the Nation," Major Corbett declared, "find nowhere else such abundant opportunity as the Government offers each year at the Citizens' Military Training Camps. Young men in all walks of life see in this outdoor life not merely physical betterment, but also moral education in team-work, fair play, and the will to win, with full recognition of the part these things play in the broad scheme of life."

For further information concerning these camps, communicate with Major Corbett at the Medical School.

THIRTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED BY DAILY

MADISON, Wis. — The Daily Cardinal of University of Wisconsin announced last week the celebration of its thirty-fifth birthday. It has been a daily paper for the entire time.

It began as a four-column, four-page paper. It now has five columns, and from eight to sixteen pages. It is student owned and student controlled.

The first newspaper at Wisconsin was The University Press, which started in 1870, fifty-seven years ago, as a monthly. It became a semi-monthly, and in 1882 became a weekly. The Cardinal superseded it.

In the thirty-five years just past, The Cardinal has had a very checkered career, the article states. The question of size was always present, and the problems of a student daily are very numerous.

FEDERATION OFFERS FOUR RUSSIAN TOURS

At Cost of $750 to $900 Students
Can Visit Vast Land in Interior

NEW YORK—Tours to Russia, a part of the world not ordinarily visited by American tourists, are being arranged for students by the National Student Federation of America. According to tentative plans, the students will sail from New York on June 25, arriving at Southampton July 2. They will sail from London to Leningrad.

From July 7 to July 14 the tourists will be in Leningrad and from July 14 to July 21 in Moscow. Following that various tours will be arranged through the Russian provinces. Guides and interpreters will accompany the parties.

One tour after leaving Moscow will go to Kharkov, the capital of the Ukraine, then to Ekaterinoslav and up the Dnieper to Kiev, to Minsk, capital of White Russia, to Warsaw, then to Berlin and Paris. Another tour will go to Rostov, an industrial town in Southern Russia, then into Georgia, visiting Tiflis. From there they go to Baku, across the Caspian Sea to Astrakhan, and up the Volga to Kazan and Nizhni-Novgorod, whence they will entrain for Moscow and Berlin.

The third tour will cover the Caucasus and the Crimea. Nizhni-Novgorod, Saratov, Vladikavkas, Tiflis, Sevastopol and Odessa will be seen. Another itinerary will visit the Urals, going to Nizhni-Novgorod, Kazan, which is in the Tartar country, and to Ekaterinberg, where the late Czar was murdered, and which has a Siberian atmosphere, and to other points in the Urals.

The cost of the tours has not definitely been set, but will be between $750 and $900, depending on the tour.

WM. H. DALL, SCIENTIST, SUCCUMBS AT AGE OF 82

Received LL.D. Degree From G. W. in 1915

Dr. William H. Dall, one of the foremost American scientists, upon whom George Washington University conferred the degree of LL.D. in 1915, died recently at the age of 82.

Dr. Dall was the honorary curator of mollusks at the United States National Museum, and was recognized as the foremost American author on shells through his numerous papers on mollusks. In the service of the International Telegraph expedition to Alaska in 1885 he accumulated many valuable collections from which he prepared interesting data on mollusks which was published in a series of scientific studies.

His merit was recognized in both scientific and literary fields, and his name has been conferred on many biological organisms.

$1,350 IS AVERAGE COST FOR COLUMBIA STUDENTS

NEW YORK—The average expense of students at Columbia University is $1,350 annually, according to the report of Nicholas McDowell Knight, Secretary of Appointments. This includes $350 for tuition, $212 for room, $396 for board, $40 for books, $50 for laundry, and $300 for travel, clothing and sundries.

Records of the university appointments office show that the expenses of the students in dentistry are highest, while those of medical students are next costly. Law training was found to be the least expensive.

"From these figures it is apparent that very few students can expect to be self-supporting," Mr. McKnight said.

The Student Loan Fund made loans to 287 students last year, the total amount of money lent was more than $67,000. The average amount lent to each of the borrowers was $223.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT IS ABSENT-MINDED PROF

EVANSTON—Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University, proved himself to be the typical absent-minded professor recently. Together with other celebrities he had been invited to the annual Gridiron banquet, which was held by the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity. He got his date mixed and appeared at the hotel in tuxedo, checked his coat, and looked for the banquet, only to be informed that the banquet was not to be held until the next night.

FORM "SLOW CLUB"

MONTREAL—Students at McGill University have formed a "slow club" which is considerably slower than most of those in the United States. It is called the Society for the Suppression of Vice, and demands among other things the abolition of all college dances.

SESSION BEGINS JULY 11

International Topics to be Studied at Geneva School; Is Fourth
Season

Scholarships have been awarded to four American Universities to students to attend the fourth session of the Geneva School of International Studies which will open on July 11 at the Conservatoire de Musique in Geneva, Switzerland. Barnard College has given a scholarship to Sue Osmotherly, of Evanston, Ill., a junior. At Cornell a scholarship has been awarded to George H. Dession, a graduate student; at the University of Chicago, to Royden Dangerfield, a graduate student; at the University of Missouri to Maynard Krueger, who is a graduate student and instructor. The University of Cincinnati will announce two scholarships for study at the Geneva School, and the Students of International Union plans to award one.

Americans on Faculty
Several distinguished American scholars have accepted places on the faculty and will lecture to the students and lead the discussion groups which form a particular feature of the school. Among the Americans on the faculty this year are: Dr. Henry Seidel Canby, who will treat the international aspects of literature; Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, whose topic will be World Economic Problems and the League; Professor R. A. Millikan of California on the international aspects of science; Dean Julian Park of the University of Buffalo, who will lecture on the Foreign Policy of the University of Chicago.

Other members of the faculty who are well-known in the United States are: Professor Louis Eisenmann of the Sorbonne, who will speak on the culture and foreign policy of France; Dr. Haas and Dr. Jaekch of the Hochschule fur Politik in Berlin the former speaking on the culture and institutions of Germany and the latter on Germany's foreign policy; General Sir Frederick Maurice, who will treat the technical and military aspects of the problem of disarmament; Professor Gilbert Murray; Professor Andre Siegfried of the Ecole des Sciences Politiques at Paris; Sir Arthur Salter, Professor William Rappard, and Dame Rachel Crowley.

Groups to be Separated

The advanced and less advanced groups of students are to be separated to some extent this year, particularly in discussion groups, so that those who are ready for intensive work in the international field will not be hampered by students whose international knowledge is elementary. An effort is to be made to present clearly to the students the factors in international affairs which produce conflict and discord as well as those making for peace and cooperation.

All information concerning enrollment at the Geneva School of International Studies may be had at the American headquarters, 366 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Miss Phoebe Morrison, George Washington Law School senior, has been awarded the Student Fellowship in International Law offered by the Carnegie Endowment Fund for International Peace.

The committee making the selection has approved Miss Morrison's choice of Yale University for further study on the subject of International Law, and the cash award of $1,000 has been placed at her disposal for use there.

"Still setting the style pace, aren't you? Glad I'm not the parent who pays and pays and pays."

"Ah, that's the point. It's an Erskine Six and economy is its secret passion. Don't judge its cost by its appearance."

SPEAKING frankly, who cares a fig for bore and stroke, cubic displacement and all of that. The car of today is the one that slips through traffic like an All-American halfback wriggles through a broken field; turns on a dime with nine cents change and pops into a parking space with a hair's breadth clearance front and rear.

To match the spirit of American youth a motor car must have "It." "It" is the ability to chase the horizon all day without panting; smart good looks that do credit to the intelligence of its owner and riding comfort that wins a sigh of complete ease.

That's why the Erskine Six Custom Coupe is taking America's youth by storm. Style conceived in Paris—design by Dietrich, the master designer—speed that lets you decide whether or not the car behind will pass. And, will it stand up? Studebaker builds it—Q. E. D.

NINE GIRLS INITIATED BY CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Speeches by Dr. McNeill, Aida Doyle and Initiates Feature Program

Chi Sigma Gamma, chemical sorority of George Washington University, held its Annual Founders' Day Banquet on Saturday, April 30, at 8 o'clock on the stage of the Club St. Marks.

The banquet was preceded by the formal initiation ceremony, when nine girls were admitted as members. They were: Mae Huntzberger, Helen Cary Jones, Carolyn Blanks, and Verna Evans, of Washington; Gypsy Leak, of Greensboro, N. C.; Lillian Nordstrom, of San Diego, Calif.; Catherine L. Shaw, of Rockville, Md.; Virginia Hefty and Lucy McCourt Huff, of Portland, Oreg. Then Mrs. Margaret Van Evers, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was made an honorary member.

During the courses the initiates delivered speeches on "Gum," "Shoe Polish," "Rouge," "Hair Pins," "Fudge Sundae," "Candy," "Hair Tonic," and "Soap." One unique delivery was for the particular benefit of Dr. McNeill, entitled "Co-Education in the Chemical Laboratory."

Aida Doyle, an honorary member of the organization and chemical authority at the U. S. National Museum, discussed the part woman plays in chemistry today. Last on the program was the talk made by Dr. Hiram Colver McNeill, of the George Washington faculty. He offered to be the guide and helper of Chi Sigma Gamma whenever his need is felt, and closed his speech by recommending that young ladies be home in bed by 11 o'clock.

Among the other guests were Dr. Louise McDowell Browne, Anna E. Mix, Eleanor Folsom, Katharine Pfeiffer, Frances P. Ross, Billie Cass and Foto Mezitis.

He (telling a joke)—"Do you see the point?"

She—"If it's what I think is, I don't; and you are no gentleman."

DEAN WILBUR AND PROF. SMITH SPEAK FOR G. W.

Dr. Bessie Burchett Elected President at Meeting in Corcoran Hall Friday

Dr. Bessie R. Burchett, of the South Philadelphia High School for Girls, Philadelphia, Pa., was elected president of the Classical Association of the Atlantic States at their twenty-first annual meeting held in Corcoran Hall last Friday and Saturday. Professor Charles Knapp, of Barnard College, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

The delegates were welcomed to George Washington University by Dean William Allen Wilbur.

Papers on various subjects were presented by professors of classical languages from the outstanding colleges of the country.

After the annual dinner on Friday evening, which was held at the Raleigh Hotel, a paper was presented by Professor C. W. E. Miller, of Johns Hopkins, past president of the Atlantic States Division. An illustrated lecture by Dr. Theodore Leslie Shear on "The New Excavations at Corinth" was the last feature of the program. Dr. Shear has done archeological work in and around Corinth and his lecture was on work carried on by himself.

Smith Speaks

At the close of the meeting Professor Chas. S. Smith, of the University, expressed the pleasure of the George Washington University in having the association as its guests and expressed the hope that they would soon again choose the University as their meeting place.

Luncheon was served the delegates and friends in the Assembly Room of Corcoran Hall by the George Washington University Cafeteria.

One hundred and fifteen delegates were registered for the meeting, according to Professor Elmer Louis Kayser, chairman of the local arrangements committee. Among the other institutions represented were St. Johns College, Catholic University, Maryland; Johns Hopkins, Wilson, University of Pennsylvania, College of Notre Dame, Columbia, Albright, Fordham, Trinity, Western Maryland, Colgate, Dominican, Goucher, New York University, Georgetown, Sisters College, Brooklyn, Hunter, American, Keuka, Hood, Mt. St. Joseph's, Franklin and Marshall, St. Bonaventure's and College of William and Mary.

At Princeton Next Year

The association voted to hold the next meeting in the spring of 1928 at Princeton University. Professor Chas. Knapp was elected as a representative to the Council of American Classical League.

The meeting at George Washington was held with the cooperation of the classical clubs of Washington and Baltimore. The Washington Classical Club is an outgrowth of the classical club of Columbia College, which was formed by the late Professor Mitchell Carroll. Professors and students of classical language, or friends, are eligible for membership in the club, according to Professor Chas. S. Smith, president of the Washington Classical Club.

ERSKINE TO JUDGE IN SONG-POEM COMPETITION

The male chorus men of the country through their official organization—The Associated Glee Clubs of America—announce a Song-Poem Competition open to all-comers. This contest is sponsored by the Association in recognition of an urgent need on the part of the glee clubs for a greater working repertoire than is now available. Inasmuch as the composer of a song usually finds his inspiration in a good poem, the association feels that in encouraging the writing of poems worthy of musical setting, it is taking the first step toward this desired end.

Prof. John Erskine, Mr. Robert Frost and Mr. Marshall Bartholomew will form the adjudicating board of the contest.

For the poem which, in the opinion of these eminent judges, is best adapted to musical setting, a prize of $100 will be awarded, in addition to the association's honor medal.

All poems must be submitted before December 1, next. "We girls have to be so careful these days."

"How's that?"

"If a fellow tries to tell us a risqué joke and we stop him too soon, he knows we've heard it before."

George—"Heh, wait a minute. There's something in my shoe that hurts."

Arthur—"What is it?"

THE DRAMA

By GEORGE ROTH

Another dramatic season closing with the sparkling "Not Yet Fleurette" and the presentation of the Phi Delta Gamma Dramatic cup over, a brilliant season, a remarkable year in the history of dramatics at George Washington.

All the plays presented were of high calibre and the judges who gave "Beggar on Horseback," the Players' entry, the cup could not help but comment on the worth of the other productions.

The plays were all difficult to an extreme, in fact each was beyond the scope of average college dramatics.

"Britannicus," the heavy, classical drama entered by the Dionysians, was given a noteworthy translation and distinguished itself by the beauty of its sets. "Not Yet, Fleurette," the Troubadours' musical comedy, was tuneful and well staged, "Caesar and Cleopatra," presented under difficulties, was in many ways well done.

In "Beggar on Horseback," however, the players had a genuinely difficult proposition. The play itself was pure satire, the hardest field for amateurs, yet coupled with this was the problem of staging, one which required the getting across of a convincing dream atmosphere.

However, these difficulties were surmounted and the clever travesty of American life and manners was presented with a satire and a uniqueness of conception that was truly remarkable for a college organization.

Those who were lucky enough to see the Players' presentation remember the earnestness of Hall Hopper's Neil McRae, the sympathy of Myrtle Posey's Cynthia, the rich humor of Betty Kilbourne's Mrs. Cady; none can forget the Rotarian gruffness of Gwynn Sander's Mr. Cady, the fluffy flapperisms of Glenys Hamilton's Gladys, and the suavity of Max Tandler's Homer. They will also remember as one of the bright spots of the play the splendid acting of the minor roles, the trapeze, the peanut vendors, the dancing master, and the telephone operators.

And above all we must not forget the unsung "stars" who welded the whole thing into a reality, the wholehearted cooperation of Miss Katherine Brown as coach and the remarkable work of Pern Henninger on the conception and execution of the sets.

The Phi Delta Gamma Cup gives the zest of competition to the dramatic season. However, the finest demonstration of school spirit was the admirable and wholehearted congratulations of the losing organizations to their victorious competitor.

Harry—"Do you know why an arm is like a detour?"

Lady Friend—"No, why is it?"

Harry—"Because it goes around something that ought to be a good thing."

Gertrude—"Is she young?"

Gwendolyn—"Why, she's so young that a cigarette is an event, not a habit."

"How did you ever meet up with those out-of-town dames?"

"My good fellow, they are co-eds in my correspondence school."

"CHILDREN'S" NUMBER OF GHOST OUT SOON

Last Issue to be Gloom Dispeller; Will be Published Monthly Next Year

With all copy for the "Children's" number of the "Ghost" in the hands of the printer and all drawings gone to the engraver, the campus is now anxiously awaiting the last issue of the G. W. humor magazine which will come out about May 20.

Something smart in the way of a cover cartoon has been completed by Rowland Lyon. It is rumored that it has a remarkable resemblance to a very prominent person around the University. It is hoped that he will recognize himself.

Although it is the "Children's" number, the jokes are anything but juvenile. They are reported to be the "hottest" yet. The drawings are expected to cause much amusement among students and it is thought that the issue will put everyone in a good humor just before examinations.

The Press Club recently received permission from the Faculty Publications Committee to publish the "Ghost" next year. Plans will be made this summer for next year's issues. It has been decided that next year the magazine will come out every month.

IOWA GETS $35,000

IOWA CITY—John D. Rockefeller has given the University of Iowa $35,000 to finance a non-sectarian school of religion. Twelve thousand five hundred is to be used during each of the first two years, and $10,000 during the third year.

"Burning the Midnight Oil"

IN the days when the student body believed in the Patriarchal Theory of Whiskers, and the Undertaker's Local No. 1 attended foot-ball games en masse, the college student was wont to seek light divertimento to while away dull evening hours. And the town wag with his inimitable badinage coined "Burning the Midnight Oil."

But fate with true irony has made this phrase a reality. Endless classes during the day—long, weary hours of study at night—leave hardly time for a thought of those removed from your college world. But they are there—waiting. Mother and Dad not quite understanding how your time is crowded—are waiting. Let them hear your voice.

Give them a ring over Long Distance.
